

The World During the Age of Discovery Map (Text, pg. 85)

Use the text (pg. 85) and/or a reference map to answer each of the questions. Label each feature with its name from the list. The map must be colored for full credit.

1. Locate and label the following:

North America	Europe	Asia	Aztec Empire
Ming Empire	Ottoman Empire	East Indies	Pacific Ocean
Indian Ocean	Africa	South America	West Indies
Australia	Persia	Mughal Empire
Atlantic Ocean	Songhai Empire

- Use different colors of different patterns to shade England, France, Spain, Portugal, and the Netherlands. (Make sure the routes can be seen on the map)
- Use matching colors or patterns to indicate exploration routes taken by Magellan, Dias, Columbus, Vasco de Gama, Cartier and Hudson. Remember the 1494 Line of Demarcation is shown on the map.
- Create a 'Key' somewhere indicating colors and countries
- Besides de Gama, who explored for Portugal?
- Which explorers sailed around (not just to) the southern tip of Africa?
- Why was Portugal the leader in the voyages of exploration?
- Is it correct to say that the European explorers shown on your map "discovered" North and South America or the East Indies? Why or why not?
